

The Hollow Men

Thomas Stearns Eliot
(1925)

THE PLOT

The Hollow Men can be read as an extension of the design of quest and failure of The Waste Land. This poem is introduced by two epigraphs: the former, 'Mistah Kurtz - he dead', uttered by a black boy in Heart of Darkness by Joseph Conrad (→ 6.15), emphasises a connection between a savage ritual and Eliot's hollow men. The latter epigraph, 'A penny for the Old Guy', stresses that Eliot's poem relates to the ceremonial straw effigies burnt on November 5th, the anniversary of the death of Guy Fawkes, the conspirator who organised the Gunpowder Plot.

THE THEME

The history of Kurtz in Conrad's novel is the study of primitive rituals of succession, initiation and fertility. Kurtz has been initiated into the tribe, becoming its shaman, its 'rain and fine weather' maker, and he has been ceremonially worshipped, thus becoming a symbol of the disastrous descent into dark places. The main parallel between Heart of Darkness and The Hollow Men consists in the theme of degradation through the rejection of good, or despair through consequent guilt.

THE STYLE

Although The Hollow Men is a poem about the dilemmas of belief, it is also explicit about language. Whatever it is that has happened to these men, loss of faith and belief in themselves, their voices have been dried up (line 5) and been made 'quiet and meaningless' (line 7). The speaker perceives a living language elsewhere but he cannot hear it, neither can his eyes open wide on a visionary positive moment (line 34): no redemptive vision is possible and the journey through hell, begun with The Love Song of J. Alfred Prufrock, continues.

This is the dead land

You are going to read and analyse the first, third and fourth sections of The Hollow Men.

I
We are the hollow men
We are the stuffed<sup>1</sup> men
Leaning together<sup>2</sup>
Headpiece filled with straw<sup>3</sup>. Alas!
5 Our dried voices, when
We whisper together
Are quiet and meaningless
As wind in dry grass<sup>4</sup>
Or rats' feet over broken glass<sup>5</sup>
10 In our dry cellar

Shape without form, shade without colour,
Paralysed force, gesture without motion;

Thomas Stearns Eliot
The Hollow Men
(1925)

Section I, III, IV

1 stuffed. Impagliati.

2 Leaning together. Che si appoggiano l'un l'altro.

3 straw. Paglia.

4 wind in dry grass. Vento nell'erba secca.

5 rats' feet over broken glass. Zampe di topo sopra vetri rotti.

Those who have crossed<sup>6</sup>
With direct eyes, to death's other Kingdom
15 Remember us – if at all<sup>7</sup> – not as lost
Violent souls, but only
As the hollow men
The stuffed men.

III

This is the dead land
20 This is cactus land
Here the stone images
Are raised<sup>8</sup>, here they receive
The supplication of a dead man's hand
Under the twinkle of a fading star<sup>9</sup>.

25 Is it like this
In death's other kingdom
Waking alone<sup>10</sup>
At the hour when we are
Trembling with tenderness<sup>11</sup>
30 Lips that would kiss
Form prayers to broken stone<sup>12</sup>.

IV

The eyes are not here
There are no eyes here
In this valley of dying stars
35 In this hollow valley
This broken jaw of our lost kingdoms<sup>13</sup>

In this last of meeting places<sup>14</sup>
We grope together
And avoid speech<sup>15</sup>
40 Gathered on this beach of the tumid river

Sightless, unless
The eyes reappear
As the perpetual star
Multifoliate rose<sup>16</sup>
45 Of death's twilight kingdom
The hope only
Of empty men.

6 Those who have crossed. Coloro che hanno attraversato.

7 if at all. Se pure succede.

8 the stone ... raised. Le immagini di pietra sorgono.

9 The supplication ... fading star. La supplica della mano di un morto sotto lo scintillio di una stella che si va spegnendo.

10 In death's ... alone. Nell'altro regno della morte svegliandoci soli.

11 At the hour ... with tenderness. Nell'ora in cui tremiamo di tenerezza.

12 Lips ... broken stone. Le labbra che vorrebbero baciare innalzano preghiere alla pietra infranta.

13 This broken ... kingdoms. Questa mascella spezzata dei nostri regni perduti.

14 In this ... places. In quest'ultimo dei luoghi d'incontro.

15 avoid speech. Evitiamo di parlare.

16 Multifoliate rose. Rosa dalle molte foglie; rimando al Paradiso dantesco, versi 13-15, del XXXII canto.

LITERARY COMPETENCE

➤ VOCABULARY

1 READ the poem and match the highlighted words with their Italian translation.

- 1 bisbigliamo .....
- 2 andiamo a tentoni .....
- 3 gonfio .....
- 4 vuoti .....

➤ COMPETENCE: READING AND UNDERSTANDING A TEXT

2 READ the first section again and find out

- where the poem takes place;
- who the speakers are;
- what their voices are like;
- what their shape is;
- what the colour linked to them is;
- how they are remembered.

3 FOCUS on the third and fourth sections again and answer the following questions.

- 1 Where do the hollow men live?
- 2 What gathers this place to its inhabitants?
- 3 What are the stone images?
- 4 Are there any eyes in this valley of death (lines 32-35)?
- 5 Who is sightless?
- 6 May they see again? What does this imply?

➤ COMPETENCE: ANALYSING AND INTERPRETING A TEXT

4 FOCUS on the hollow men.

- 1 Identify the two similes used in the first section to present them and state their function.
- 2 State what the cactus used to describe the place where they live is the symbol of.
- 3 They are sightless but they desire the eyes in the next life. What do the eyes represent?

5 CONSIDER the musical devices.

- 1 Do these lines rely on rhymes?
- 2 Look for examples of alliteration and repetition. What effect do they create?

6 DEFINE the theme developed in these lines.
